TekPlus believes that Fortinet's FortiGate 5140 systems are sound and are likely to impress the customers. These systems will mainly attract the high end customers for securing their data centers. Fortinet has made strong efforts for enriching the features of these systems in order to deliver high availability and high capacity security systems for securing the customer's large networks. As Fortinet is one of the leading UTM vendors this product will act as an up thrust in accelerating FortiGate 5140 sales. However the customers still needs to evaluate and compare these products with other vendor's offerings.
